LEARNINGTEX's MOOC (Open Online Course) on "Textile Quality Control with the use of Advanced Technologies" is in its final phase of integration in the platform and will be presented publicly during this month of September, through different events in several countries.

Participants in these events will thus have the opportunity to witness a complete demonstration of the contents and structure of the MOOC created. During the demonstration, the project partners will explain some of their characteristics, such as testing and evaluation methods, as well as the structure of the MOOC and the different Open Educational Resources (OER) used.

Events are scheduled as follows:

AUSTRIA (BEST, Wien) - September 13th - 4:00 p.m.

SPAIN (AITEC, Alcoy) - September 18th - 5:00 p.m.

PORTUGAL (CITEVE, Vila Nova de Famalicão) - September 28th - 3:00 p.m.

In the middle, on September 19th at 5:00 p.m., the final workshop of the project will be held at the UPV Campus in Alcoy.

In this workshop, the project and the intellectual results will be presented to all stakeholders, such as textile companies, educational institutions, students and workers, teachers and the general public.

Participation in any of the events is free, but registration is required.
